Such grant shall be made available in increments as needed for such purpose and only if the Foundation has agreed under terms and conditions satisfactory to the Secretary to provide, from non-Federal sources, sufficient contributions on a timely basis to complete the reconstruction of the Center.

Grant.
16 USC 284c.

“(b) The Secretary may make loans to the Foundation to the extent needed to complete the reconstruction of the Center and to provide for noise mitigation measures, including those on adjacent public property, in an amount equal to twice the amount of non-Federal contributions received, and provided, by the Foundation for such reconstruction work. The total amount of such loans may not exceed $8,000,000. Loans made under this subsection shall be repaid in full, with interest on any unpaid obligation at a rate determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, taking into consideration current market yields on outstanding marketing obligations of the United States with remaining periods to maturity comparable to the maturity of the loan, plus such additional charge, if any, as the Secretary may determine, for the purpose of covering other costs of servicing the loan. In determining the terms and conditions governing any loan, the Secretary shall fix a term of not more than five years from the date the loan agreement is executed.

“(d) The Secretary shall be responsible for overseeing the reconstruction and shall have final approval over the plans for, and location and design of, the Center, and the Foundation shall be responsible for managing the construction activities, including the selection (in accordance with the requirements referred to in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (c)) of persons to perform architectural, engineering, construction, and related services.

Easement.

“(e) No grants or loans may be made under this section unless the Secretary has received what the Secretary deems to be adequate written assurance from the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration that any easement granted to the Commonwealth of Virginia by the Administrator for construction of the Dulles Toll Road will contain noise standards (“A” weighted energy average sound level of 52 to 54 dB) and other standards set forth in the Final Environmental Impact Statement for the Dulles Airport Access Road Outer Parallel Toll Roads, prepared by the Federal Aviation Administration and issued in May of 1982, legally enforceable by the Administrator and by the Secretary which are adequate to protect the Center from undue noise pollution and other environmental degradation attributable to such toll road both during and after its construction, and will also contain legally enforceable assurances that the Commonwealth of Virginia will promptly take measures to achieve the noise levels specified in the easement. Such measures may include a partial or total ban on truck traffic on the toll road or other mitigation recommended by the Secretary and the Administrator.

“(A) if such action is taken to prevent the closing of such insured bank;

“(B) if, with respect to a closed insured bank, such action is taken to restore such closed insured bank to normal operation; or

“(C) if, when severe financial conditions exist which threaten the stability of a significant number of insured banks or of insured banks possessing significant financial resources, such action is taken in order to lessen the risk to the Corporation posed by such insured bank under such threat of instability.

“(2)(A) In order to facilitate a merger or consolidation of an insured bank described in subparagraph (B) with an insured institution or the sale of assets of such insured bank and the assumption of such insured bank's liabilities by an insured institution, or the acquisition of the stock of such insured bank, the Corporation is authorized, in its sole discretion and upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors may prescribe—

"SEC. 5. (a) In order to provide thrift institutions for the deposit or investment of funds and for the extension of credit for homes and other goods and services, the Board is authorized, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, to provide for the organization, incorporation, examination, operation, and regulation of associations to be known as Federal savings and loan associations, or Federal savings banks, and to issue charters therefor, giving primary consideration to the best practices of thrift institutions in the United States. The lending and investment authorities are conferred by this section to provide such institutions the flexibility necessary to maintain their role of providing credit for housing."

DEMAND ACCOUNTS AND CAPITAL STOCK

SEC. 312. Paragraphs (1) and (2) of section 5(b) of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U.S.C. 1464(b)) are amended to read as follows:

"(1)(A) An association may raise capital in the form of such savings deposits, shares, or other accounts, for fixed, minimum, or indefinite periods of time (all of which are referred to in this section as savings accounts), or in the form of such demand accounts of those persons or organizations that have a business, corporate, commercial, or agricultural loan relationship with the association as are authorized by its charter or by regulations of the Board, and may issue such passbooks, time certificates of deposit, or other evidence of accounts as are so authorized.

"(B) An association may also accept demand accounts from a commercial, corporate, business, or agricultural entity for the sole purpose of effectuating payments thereto by a nonbusiness customer. An association may not pay interest on a demand account. All savings accounts and demand accounts shall have the same priority upon liquidation. Holders of accounts and obligors of an association shall, to such extent as may be provided by its charter or by regulations of the Board, be members of the association, and shall have such voting rights and such other rights as are thereby provided.

“(C) Except as may be otherwise authorized by an association’s charter or regulation of the Board in the case of savings accounts for fixed or minimum terms of not less than fourteen days, the payment of any savings account shall be subject to the right of the association to require such advance notice, not less than fourteen days, as shall be provided for by the charter of the association or the regulations of the Board.

“(D) The payment of withdrawals from accounts in the event an association does not pay all withdrawals in full (subject to the right of the association, where applicable, to require notice) shall be subject to such rules and procedures as may be prescribed by the association’s charter or by regulation of the Board, but any association which, except as authorized in writing by the Board, fails to make full payment of any withdrawal when due shall be deemed to be in an unsafe or unsound condition to transact business within the meaning of subsection (d) of this section.

“(E) Accounts may be subject to check or to withdrawal or transfer on negotiable or transferable or other order or authorization to the association, as the Board may by regulation provide.

“(F) Notwithstanding any limitation of this section, associations may establish remote service units for the purpose of crediting savings or demand accounts, debiting such accounts, crediting payments on loans, and the disposition of related financial transactions, as provided in regulations prescribed by the Board.

“(2) To such extent as the Board may authorize by regulation or advice in writing, an association may borrow, may give security, may be surety as defined by the Board and may issue such notes, bonds, debentures, or other obligations, or other securities, including capital stock, as the Board may so authorize.”

“(2) Subject to the rules and regulations of the Board, any Federal association may convert itself from the mutual form to the stock form of organization, or from the stock form to the mutual form, and any Federal association may change its designation from a Federal savings and loan association to a Federal savings bank, or the reverse.

“(3)(A) Any Federal association may convert itself into a savings and loan or savings bank type of institution organized pursuant to the laws of the State, district, commonwealth, or territory (hereinafter referred to in this section as the ‘State’) in which the principal office of such Federal association is located if—

“(i) the State permits the conversion of any savings and loan or savings bank type of institution of such State into a Federal association;

“(ii) such conversion of a Federal association into such a State institution is determined upon the vote in favor of such conversion cast in person or by proxy at a special meeting of members or stockholders called to consider such action, specified by the law of the State in which the home office of the Federal association is located, as required by such law for a State-chartered institution to convert itself into a Federal association, but in no event upon a vote of less than 51 per centum of all the votes cast at such meeting, and upon compliance with other requirements reciprocally equivalent to the requirements of such State law for the conversion of a State-chartered institution into a Federal association;

“(iii) notice of the meeting to vote on conversion shall be given as herein provided and no other notice thereof shall be necessary; the notice shall expressly state that such meeting is called to vote thereon, as well as the time and place thereof, and such notice shall be mailed, postage prepaid, at least thirty and not more than sixty days prior to the date of the meeting, to each member or stockholder of record of the Federal association at his last address as shown on the books of the Federal association and to the General Counsel of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, District of Columbia;

“(iv) in the event of dissolution of a mutual association after conversion, the members or shareholders of the association will share on a mutual basis in the assets of the association in exact proportion to their relative share or account credits;

“(v) in the event of dissolution of a stock association after conversion, the stockholders will share on an equitable basis in the assets of the association; and “(vi) such conversion shall be effective upon the date that all the provisions of this Act shall have been fully complied with and upon the issuance of a new charter by the State wherein the association is located.

12 USC 1726.

“(B)(i) The act of conversion constitutes consent by the institution to be bound by all the requirements that the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation may legally impose under section 403 of the National Housing Act.

“(ii) The association shall upon conversion and thereafter be authorized to issue securities in any form currently approved at the time of issue by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation for issuance by similar insured institutions in such State.

“(iii) If the insurance of accounts is terminated in connection with such conversion, the notice and other action shall be taken as provided by law and regulations for the termination of insurance of accounts.

12 USC 1730a.

“(4) Any aggrieved person may obtain review of a final action of the Board or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation which approves, with or without conditions, or disapproves a plan of conversion from the mutual to the stock form, only by complying with the provisions of subsection (k) of section 408 of the National Housing Act within the time limit and in the manner therein prescribed, which provisions shall apply in all respects as if such final action were an order the review of which is therein provided for, except that such time limit shall commence upon publication of notice of such final action in the Federal Register or upon the giving of such general notice of final action as is required by or approved under regulations of the Corporation, whichever is later.

“(5)(A) To the extent authorized by the Board—

“(i) any Federal savings bank chartered as such prior to the enactment of this paragraph may continue to make any investment or engage in any activity not otherwise authorized under this section, to the degree it was permitted to do so as a Federal savings bank prior to such enactment; and

“(ii) any Federal savings bank formerly organized as a mutual savings bank under State law may continue to make any investment or engage in any activity not otherwise authorized under this section, to the degree it was authorized to do so as a mutual savings bank under State law.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), the exercise by the lender of its option pursuant to such a clause shall be exclusively governed by the terms of the loan contract, and all rights and remedies of the lender and the borrower shall be fixed and governed by the contract.

(3) In the exercise of its option under a due-on-sale clause, a lender is encouraged to permit an assumption of a real property loan at the existing contract rate or at a rate which is at or below the average between the contract and market rates, and nothing in this section shall be interpreted to prohibit any such assumption.

(c)(1) In the case of a contract involving a real property loan which was made or assumed, including a transfer of the lien property

(B) A lender may not exercise its option pursuant to a due-on-sale clause in the case of a transfer of a real property loan which is subject to this subsection where the transfer occurred prior to the date of enactment of this Act.

(C) This subsection does not apply to a loan which was originated by a Federal savings and loan association or Federal savings bank.

(9) any other transfer or disposition described in regulations prescribed by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

(e)(1) The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, in consultation with the Comptroller of the Currency and the National Credit Union Administration Board, is authorized to issue rules and regulations and to publish interpretations governing the implementation of this section.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d), the rules and regulations prescribed under this section may permit a lender to exercise its option pursuant to a due-on-sale clause with respect to a real property loan and any related agreement pursuant to which a borrower obtains the right to receive future income.

TITLE VIII—ALTERNATIVE MORTGAGE TRANSACTIONS

SHORT TITLE

SEC. 801. This title may be cited as the “Alternative Mortgage Transaction Parity Act of 1982”.

Alternative
Mortgage
Transaction
Parity Act of 1982.

12 USC 3801
note.

FINDINGS AND PURPOSE

SEC. 802. (a) The Congress hereby finds that—

12 USC 3801.

(1) increasingly volatile and dynamic changes in interest rates have seriously impaired the ability of housing creditors to provide consumers with fixed-term, fixed-rate credit secured by interests in real property, cooperative housing, manufactured homes, and other dwellings;

(2) alternative mortgage transactions are essential to the provision of an adequate supply of credit secured by residential property necessary to meet the demand expected during the 1980's; and

(3) the Comptroller of the Currency, the National Credit Union Administration, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board have recognized the importance of alternative mortgage transactions and have adopted regulations authorizing federally chartered depository institutions to engage in alternative mortgage financing.

(b) It is the purpose of this title to eliminate the discriminatory impact that those regulations have upon nonfederally chartered housing creditors and provide them with parity with federally chartered institutions by authorizing all housing creditors to make, purchase, and enforce alternative mortgage transactions so long as the transactions are in conformity with the regulations issued by the Federal agencies.

DEFINITIONS

SEC. 803. As used in this title—

12 USC 3802.

42 USC 5402.

(1) the term “alternative mortgage transaction” means a loan or credit sale secured by an interest in residential real property, a dwelling, all stock allocated to a dwelling unit in a residential cooperative housing corporation, or a residential manufactured home (as that term is defined in section 603(6) of the National Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974)—

(A) in which the interest rate or finance charge may be adjusted or renegotiated;

(B) involving a fixed-rate, but which implicitly permits rate adjustments by having the debt mature at the end of an interval shorter than the term of the amortization schedule; or

(C) involving any similar type of rate, method of determining return, term, repayment, or other variation not common to traditional fixed-rate, fixed-term transactions, including without limitation, transactions that involve the sharing of equity or appreciation; described and defined by applicable regulation; and

(2) the term “housing creditor” means—

12 USC 1735f-7
note.

(A) a depository institution, as defined in section 501(a) (2) of the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980;

12 USC 1701.

(B) a lender approved by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development for participation in any mortgage insurance program under the National Housing Act;

(C) any person who regularly makes loans, credit sales, or advances secured by interests in properties referred to in paragraph (1); or

(D) any transferee of any of them.

A person is not a “housing creditor” with respect to a specific alternative mortgage transaction if, except for this title, in order to enter into that transaction, the person would be required to comply with licensing requirements imposed under State law, unless such person is licensed under applicable State law and such person remains, or becomes, subject to the applicable regulatory requirements and enforcement mechanisms provided by State law.

ALTERNATIVE MORTGAGE AUTHORITY

12 USC 3803.

SEC. 804. (a) In order to prevent discrimination against State-chartered depository institutions, and other nonfederally chartered housing creditors, with respect to making, purchasing, and enforcing alternative mortgage transactions, housing creditors may make, purchase, and enforce alternative mortgage transactions, except that this section shall apply—

(1) with respect to banks, only to transactions made in accordance with regulations governing alternative mortgage transactions as issued by the Comptroller of the Currency for national banks, to the extent that such regulations are authorized by rulemaking authority granted to the Comptroller of the Currency with regard to national banks under laws other than this section;

(2) with respect to credit unions, only to transactions made in accordance with regulations governing alternative mortgage transactions as issued by the National Credit Union Administration Board for Federal credit unions, to the extent that such regulations are authorized by rulemaking authority granted to the National Credit Union Administration with regard to Federal credit unions under laws other than this section; and

(3) with respect to all other housing creditors, including without limitation, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, and savings banks, only to transactions made in accordance with regulations governing alternative mortgage transactions as issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board for federally chartered savings and loan associations, to the extent that such regulations are authorized by rulemaking authority granted to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board with regard to federally chartered savings and loan associations under laws other than this section.

(b) For the purpose of determining the applicability of this section, an alternative mortgage transaction shall be deemed to be made in accordance with the applicable regulation notwithstanding the housing creditor's failure to comply with the regulation, if—

(1) the transaction is in substantial compliance with the regulation; and

(2) within sixty days of discovering any error, the housing creditor corrects such error, including making appropriate adjustments, if any, to the account.

(c) An alternative mortgage transaction may be made by a housing creditor in accordance with this section, notwithstanding any State constitution, law, or regulation.

APPLICABILITY

SEC. 805. (a) The provisions of section 804 shall not apply to any alternative mortgage transaction in any State made on or after the effective date (if such effective date occurs on or after the effective date of this title and prior to a date three years after the effective date of this title) of a State law or a certification that the voters of such State have voted in favor of any provision, constitutional or otherwise, which states explicitly and by its terms that such State does not want the preemption provided in section 804 to apply with respect to alternative mortgage transactions subject to the laws of such State, except that section 804 shall continue to apply to—

(1) any alternative mortgage transaction undertaken on or after such date pursuant to an agreement to undertake such alternative mortgage transaction which was entered into on or after the effective date of this title and prior to such later date (the "preemption period"); and

(2) any renewal, extension, refinancing, or other modification of an alternative mortgage transaction that was entered into during the preemption period.

(b) An alternative mortgage transaction shall be deemed to have been undertaken during the preemption period to which this section applies if it—

(1) is funded or extended in whole or in part during the preemption period, regardless of whether pursuant to a commitment or other agreement therefor made prior to that period; or

(2) is a renewal, extension, refinancing, or other modification of an alternative mortgage transaction entered into before the preemption period and such renewal, extension, or other modification is made during such period with the written consent of any person obligated to repay such credit.

RELATION TO OTHER LAW

12 USC 3805.
12 USC 1735f-7
note.

SEC. 806. Section 501(c)(1) of the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980 shall not apply to transactions which are subject to this title.

EFFECTIVE DATE

12 USC 3801
note.

SEC. 807. (a) This title shall be effective upon enactment.

(b) Within sixty days of the enactment of this title, the Comptroller of the Currency, the National Credit Union Administration, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board shall identify, describe, and publish those portions or provisions of their respective regulations that are inappropriate for (and thus inapplicable to), or that need to be conformed for the use of, the nonfederally chartered housing creditors to which their respective regulations apply, including without limitation, making necessary changes in terminology to conform the regulatory and disclosure provisions to those more typically associated with various types of transactions including credit sales.

The funds so made available may be expended to acquire, construct, convert, rehabilitate, or install permanent or temporary public works, including land acquisition, site preparation, appurtenances, utilities, and equipment. No portion of such sums may be obligated for expenditure or expended to construct, expand, or modify laboratories and other installations unless (A) a period of thirty days has passed after the Administrator or his designee has transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the President of the Senate and to the Committee on Science and Technology of the House of Representatives and to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate a written report containing a full and complete statement concerning (i) the nature of such construction, expansion, or modification, (ii) the cost thereof including the cost of any real estate action pertaining thereto, and (iii) the reason why such construction, expansion, or modification is necessary in the national interest, or (B) each such committee before the expiration of such period has transmitted to the Administrator written notice to the effect that such committee has no objection to the proposed action. In calculating the thirty-day period referred to in the preceding sentence, any days on which either House is not in session because of an adjournment sine die or an adjournment of more than 5 days to a day certain shall be excluded, but in no event shall the total period extend beyond 45 days.

Section 103(d) of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C. 1392(d)) is amended by inserting after the first sentence thereof the following new sentence: "Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing any State from enforcing any safety standard which is identical to a Federal safety standard."

TIRE REGISTRATION INFORMATION; NOTICE OF TIRE DEFECTS

SEC. 4. (a) Section 158(b) of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966 (15 U.S.C. 1418(b)) is amended—

(1) by inserting "(1)" after the subsection designation; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraphs:

“(2)(A) Except as provided in paragraph (3), the Secretary shall not have any authority to establish any rule which requires a dealer or distributor to complete or compile the records and information specified in paragraph (1) if the business of such dealer or distributor is not owned or controlled by a manufacturer of tires.

“(B) The Secretary shall require each dealer and distributor whose business is not owned or controlled by a manufacturer of tires to furnish the first purchaser of a tire with a registration form (containing the tire identification number of the tire) which the purchaser may complete and return directly to the manufacturer of the tire. The contents and format of such forms shall be established by the Secretary and shall be standardized for all tires. Sufficient copies of such forms shall be furnished to such dealers and distributors by manufacturers of tires.

“(3)(A) At the end of the two-year period following the effective date of this paragraph (and from time to time thereafter), the Secretary shall evaluate the extent to which the procedures established in paragraph (2) have been successful in facilitating the establishment and maintenance of records regarding the first purchasers of tires.

“(B)(i) The Secretary, upon completion of any evaluation under subparagraph (A), shall determine (I) the extent to which dealers and distributors have encouraged first purchasers of tires to register the tires, and the extent to which dealers and distributors have complied with the procedures established in paragraph (2); and (II) whether to impose upon manufacturers, dealers, or distributors (or any combination of such groups) any requirements which the Secretary determines will result in a significant increase in the percentage of first purchasers of tires with respect to whom records would be established and maintained.

“(ii) Manufacturers of tires shall reimburse dealers and distributors for all reasonable costs incurred by them in order to comply with any requirement imposed by the Secretary under clause (i).

“(iii) The Secretary may order by rule the imposition of requirements under clause (i) only if the Secretary determines that such requirements are necessary to reduce the risk to motor vehicle safety, after considering (I) the cost of such requirements to manufacturers and the burden of such requirements upon dealers and distributors, as compared to the additional percentage of first purchasers of tires with respect to whom records would be established and maintained as a result of the imposition of such requirements; and (II) the extent to which dealers and distributors have encouraged first purchasers of tires to register the tires, and the extent to which dealers and distributors have complied with the procedures established in paragraph (2).

“(iv) The Secretary, upon making any determination under clause (i), shall submit a report to each House of the Congress containing a detailed statement of the nature of such determination, together with an explanation of the grounds for such determination.”.

An Act

To establish the Protection Island National Wildlife Refuge, Jefferson County, State of Washington

Oct 15, 1982

[H R 1486]

Protection Island National Wildlife Refuge
Act
16 USC 668dd
note.

SEC. 2. The Congress finds that—

(1) Protection Island provides nesting habitat for 72 per centum of the entire seabird population of Puget Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca;

(2) this island also provides refuge for other species, including the endangered bald eagle and the harbor seal; and

(3) this island is a nationally significant environmental resource threatened with destruction through residential and related development.

SEC. 3. As used in this Act:

Definitions

(a) The term "refuge" means the Protection Island National Wildlife Refuge that includes those lands and waters, and interests therein, located in Jefferson County, State of Washington, that are depicted on the map entitled "Protection Island National Wildlife Refuge", dated September 1980, and on file at the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. The purposes of the refuge are to provide habitat for a broad diversity of bird species, with particular emphasis on protecting the nesting habitat of the bald eagle, tufted puffin, rhinoceros auklet, pigeon guillemot, and pelagic cormorant; to protect the hauling-out area of harbor seals; and to provide for scientific research and wildlife-oriented public education and interpretation."

(b) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

SEC. 4. (a) Subject to subsections (b) and (c), the Secretary is authorized to acquire lands and waters or interests therein within the boundaries of the refuge by donation, purchase with donated or appropriated funds, or exchange.

(b)(1) In the case of any person who is the owner of land as of January 1, 1982, that—

(A) is within the boundaries of the refuge and contains a structure, suitable for use as a personal residence, that was located on the land on January 1, 1982; and the Secretary shall first offer to acquire the land subject to a life use, or, at the option of the owner, to an extended use reservation for a shorter term of years, subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary deems necessary or appropriate to insure that the land will be used in a manner that is compatible with the purposes for which the refuge is established.

(B) in the judgment of the Secretary the United States should acquire a fee simple interest therein;

(2) Acquisition of land subject to life uses or other extended use reservations under paragraph (1) shall be made on the basis of the fair market value of the land and improvements thereon at the time of acquisition less 1 per centum of such value for each year of the reservation. The term of life uses shall be calculated on an actuarial basis.

(c) With respect to land within the boundaries of the refuge other than land described in subsection (b), the Secretary, in order to lessen the impact of Federal question on the present owners, shall give special consideration to providing for extended use reservations to the extent compatible with the purposes for which the refuge is established.

(d) Any owner of property within the refuge may offer to sell his property to the Secretary for the amount determined by the Jefferson County assessor to be the assessed value of the property as of the date that the offer is tendered. Prior to two years after Congress has appropriated funds to the Secretary to make purchases under this Act, the Secretary may immediately purchase such properties pursuant to such offers, may tender immediate payment for such properties, and may take immediate possession of such properties, in order to accommodate such owners. Any purchase made pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the requirements of the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policy Act of 1970 (42 U.S.C. 4601-4655).

(e) Prior to two years after Congress has appropriated funds to the Secretary to make purchases under this Act, the Secretary shall not acquire any of the property within the refuge by exercising the power of eminent domain except as may be necessary to control public access to concentrated nesting sites within the refuge.

Notice;
publication in Federal Register.

SEC. 5. The Secretary shall establish the refuge by publication of a notice to that effect in the Federal Register at such time as he determines that lands, waters, and interests therein sufficient to constitute an efficiently administrable refuge have been acquired. The Secretary may make such minor revisions in the boundaries of the refuge as may be appropriate to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Administration.

SEC. 6. Prior to the establishment of the refuge and thereafter, the Secretary shall administer the lands, waters, and interests therein acquired for the refuge in accordance with the National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act of 1966 (16 U.S.C. 668dd-ee). The Secretary may utilize such additional statutory authority as may be available to him for the conservation and development of wildlife and natural resources, the development of outdoor recreation opportunities compatible with the wildlife resources, and interpretive education as he deems appropriate to carry out the purposes of the refuge.

SEC. 7. Beginning October 1, 1982, there are authorized to be appropriated $4,000,000 for acquisition of lands and waters, and interests therein, for the refuge.

Jones Island
National Wildlife Refuge,
transfer to State of Washington

SEC. 8. In consideration of the prior transfer of certain properties now in the San Juan National Wildlife Refuge by the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission to the Department of the Interior, the Secretary of the Interior shall transfer all ownership, jurisdiction, and control over the Jones Island National Wildlife Refuge, more particularly described as section 10, tract B; section 11, tract A, lots 1, 2, and 3; section 14, tract C, lots 1 to 5 inclusive, and the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter, all of township 36 north, range 3 west, Willamette Meridian, all in the State of Washington, to the State of Washington for use as a public recreation area to be managed in accordance with the applicable laws of the State of Washington.

Relating to the establishment of a permanent boundary for that portion of the Acadia National Park as lies within the town of Isle au Haut, Maine.

Oct. 15, 1982
[S 1777]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Congress finds that—

(1) there are significant scenic, educational, natural, and cultural resources in the town of Isle au Haut, Maine;

(2) due to the isolated location and traditional resource-based economy of the town's island community, these resources are fragile and deserving of conservation and protection through both public and private efforts; and

(3) both residents of the town and visitors to the Acadia National Park will benefit from the establishment of a permanent boundary for the park and the management of parklands on a limited entry, low intensity basis.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the permanent boundary of Acadia National Park lying within the town of Isle au Haut, Maine, is hereby established to include only those lands and interests therein as are depicted on the map entitled "Boundary Map, Acadia National Park, Town of Isle au Haut, Maine", numbered 123-80003 and dated October 1981, which map is on file and available for public inspection in the offices of the Department of the Interior and at the Registry of Deeds for Hancock and Knox Counties, Maine.

(a) The management and use of parklands on Isle au Haut shall not interfere with the maintenance of a viable local community with a traditional resource-based economy outside the boundary of the park. To the maximum extent practicable, no development or plan for the convenience of park visitors shall be undertaken which would be incompatible with the preservation of the flora and fauna or the physiographic conditions now prevailing, and every effort shall be exerted to maintain and preserve this portion of the park in as nearly its present state and condition as possible. In recognition of the special fragility and sensitivity of the park's resources, visitation shall be strictly limited to assure negligible adverse impact on such resources, to conserve the character of the town and to protect the quality of the visitor experience.

The report shall be prepared and the carrying capacities established with public participation and in consultation with the town of Isle au Haut and other interested parties.

Joint Resolution

To provide for the designation of the week of December 12, 1982, through December 18, 1982, as "National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week".

Oct. 15, 1982
[S.J. Res. 241]

Whereas traffic accidents cause more violent deaths in the United States than any other cause, over fifty thousand in 1980;

Whereas traffic accidents also play a substantial role in serious injuries in this country;

Whereas between 40 and 55 per centum of drivers who are fatally injured have alcohol concentrations in their blood above the legal limit and this figure rises to 55 to 65 per centum in single vehicle crashes;

Whereas the total societal cost of drunk driving has been estimated anywhere from $5,000,000,000 to $25,000,000,000 a year, which does not include the human suffering that can never be measured;

Whereas there are increasing reports of driving after drug use and accidents involving drivers who have used marihuana or other illegal drugs;

Whereas more research is needed on the effects of drugs on driving ability and their impact on the incidence of traffic accidents, either alone or in combination with alcohol;

Whereas an increased public awareness of the gravity of the problem of drugged driving may warn drug users to refrain from driving and may stimulate interest in increased research on the effects of drugs on driving ability and the incidence of traffic accidents;

Whereas the public, particularly through the work of citizens groups such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and Remove Intoxicated Drivers (RID), is demanding a solution to the problem of drunk driving;

Whereas the President has appointed a Commission on Drunk Driving to heighten public awareness and stimulate the pursuit of solutions;

Whereas many States have appointed task forces to examine the existing drunk driving program and make recommendations for a renewed, comprehensive approach;

Whereas an increase in the national awareness of the problem of drunk and drugged driving may help to sustain current efforts to develop comprehensive solutions at the State and local levels; and

Whereas the Christmas and New Year's holiday period, with more drivers on the roads and an increased number of social functions, is a particularly appropriate time to focus national attention on this critical problem: Now, therefore, be it

National Drunk
and Drugged Driving

Week.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the week of December 12, 1982, through December 18, 1982, is designated as "National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week", and the President is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to observe that week with appropriate activities.

(1) coastal barriers along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States and the adjacent wetlands, marshes, estuaries, inlets and nearshore waters provide—

(A) habitats for migratory birds and other wildlife; and

(B) habitats which are essential spawning, nursery, nesting, and feeding areas for commercially and recreationally important species of finfish and shellfish, as well as other aquatic organisms such as sea turtles;

(2) coastal barriers contain resources of extraordinary scenic, scientific, recreational, natural, historic, archeological, cultural, and economic importance; which are being irretrievably damaged and lost due to development on, among, and adjacent to, such barriers;

(3) coastal barriers serve as natural storm protective buffers and are generally unsuitable for development because they are vulnerable to hurricane and other storm damage and because natural shoreline recession and the movement of unstable sediments undermine manmade structures;

(4) certain actions and programs of the Federal Government have subsidized and permitted development on coastal barriers and the result has been the loss of barrier resources, threats to human life, health, and property, and the expenditure of millions of tax dollars each year; and

(5) a program of coordinated action by Federal, State, and local governments is critical to the more appropriate use and conservation of coastal barriers.

(b) PURPOSE.—The Congress declares that it is the purpose of this Act to minimize the loss of human life, wasteful expenditure of Federal revenues, and the damage to fish, wildlife, and other natural resources associated with the coastal barriers along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts by restricting future Federal expenditures and financial assistance which have the effect of encouraging development of coastal barriers, by establishing a Coastal Barrier Resources System, and by considering the means and measures by which the long-term conservation of these fish, wildlife, and other natural resources may be achieved.

Joint Resolution

Oct. 18, 1982

[S.J. Res. 261]

To designate "National Housing Week".

Whereas Congress has repeatedly reaffirmed the national goal of a decent home and a suitable living environment for every American family;

Whereas millions of Americans, particularly young families, are finding the opportunity for homeownership and decent housing out of their reach;

Whereas excessive and duplicative government regulations at the Federal, State, and local level have increased the cost of housing throughout the country;

Whereas the Nation's housing industry has been a major contributor to the national economy by creating jobs and generating revenue;

Whereas homeownership and decent housing promotes pride and contributes to the stability of the family in America; and

Whereas it is appropriate to reaffirm our Nation's historic commitment to housing as a national priority to preserve the American dream: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That October 24-31, 1982, be declared "National Housing Week" and that the President of the United States be authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon all people of the United States to observe this week with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

Joint Resolution

To designate the month of November 1982 as "National Christmas Seal Month".

Oct. 19, 1982

[S.J. Res. 262]

Whereas chronic diseases of the lung afflict well over eighteen million Americans, cause more than two hundred thousand deaths annually, and cost the Nation more than $45,000,000,000 each year in lost wages, productivity, and in direct costs of medical care;

Whereas diseases such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, and lung cancer are responsible for three hundred and forty thousand premature deaths a year;

Whereas lung cancer is shortly expected to surpass breast cancer as a cause of death in American women, emphysema and other chronic obstructive pulmonary diseases have been the fastest rising cause of death in the United States in the last fourteen years, and over six million Americans, including two million children, suffer from asthma;

Whereas the American Lung Association, the Nation's first voluntary health organization providing services to communities with funds raised through private contributions, was founded in 1904 to combat tuberculosis when this lung disease was known in nearly every American family;

Whereas tuberculosis has been subdued, though not eradicated, and in this one hundredth anniversary year of the discovery of the tubercle bacillus, the American Lung Association, with other national and international health organizations, is pledged to eliminate tuberculosis from this country in the next decade; and

Whereas the American Lung Association now uses Christmas Seal dollars to support pulmonary research, advanced education of doctors and nurses in pulmonary medicine, and to provide services to thousands of Americans in their own communities: Now, therefore, be it

National Christmas Seal Month.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the month of November 1982 is designated as “National Christmas Seal Month” and the President of the United States is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon all government agencies and the people of the United States to observe the month with appropriate activities supporting the Christmas Seal program.

“(d)(1) Any owner or occupier of improved property who retains a right of use and occupancy under subsection (b) may convey or lease such right during its existence to a member of such owner or occupier’s immediate family for noncommercial residential purposes which are not incompatible with the purposes of this Act and which do not impair the usefulness and attractiveness of the area designated for inclusion.

An Act

To establish a White House Conference on Productivity.

Oct. 25, 1982

[H.R. 7292]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

White House
Conference on Productivity
Act.

SHORT TITLE

SEC. 101. This Act may be cited as the "White House Conference on Productivity Act".

15 USC 2401
note.

FINDINGS

SEC. 102. The Congress finds that—

15 USC 2401
note.

(1) the United States traditional annual productivity improvement rate of approximately 3 per centum has fallen drastically in recent years to a negative one-half of 1 per centum;

(2) if our traditional productivity improvement rate has been maintained, the average household would have received nearly $5,500 in additional real income each year;

(3) the decline in productivity has inflated the cost of goods and services produced in the United States relative to the goods and services of nations with higher productivity rates;

(4) improved productivity will enhance our international competitiveness, which will expand foreign market opportunities and jobs;

(5) productivity improvement can be restored in the United States through the application of policies and management techniques which have brought substantial productivity gains on a broad scale in other countries and in some businesses within the United States;

(6) when adequate protections are provided, productivity improvement techniques can bring great benefits to labor as well as management; and

(7) the United States must act immediately to reverse our productivity decline and to restore our annual productivity improvement.

DEFINITIONS

SEC. 103. For purposes of this Act—

15 USC 2401

(1) the term "Conference" means the White House Conference on Productivity;

(2) the term "Director" means a Director of the White House Conference on Productivity who shall be appointed by the Secretary of Commerce and who shall be paid at the rate of basic pay provided for level V of the Executive Schedule pursuant to section 5316 of title 5, United States Code;

97th Congress

An Act

Dec. 22, 1982
[S. 1894]

To permit Indian tribes to enter into certain agreements for the disposition of tribal mineral resources, and for other purposes.

Indian Mineral Development
Act of 1982.
25 USC 2101
note.
Definitions.
25 USC 2101.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as the "Indian Mineral Development Act of 1982".

SEC. 2. For the purposes of this Act, the term—

(1) "Indian" means any individual Indian or Alaska Native who owns land or interests in land the title to which is held in trust by the United States or is subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States;

(2) "Indian tribe" means any Indian tribe, band, nation, pueblo, community, rancheria, colony, or other group which owns land or interests in land title to which is held in trust by the United States or is subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States; and

(3) "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

25 USC 2102.

SEC. 3. (a) Any Indian tribe, subject to the approval of the Secretary and any limitation or provision contained in its constitution or charter, may enter into any joint venture, operating, production sharing, service, managerial, lease or other agreement, or any amendment, supplement or other modification of such agreement (hereinafter referred to as a "Minerals Agreement") providing for the exploration for, or extraction, processing, or other development of, oil, gas, uranium, coal, geothermal, or other energy or nonenergy mineral resources (hereinafter referred to as "mineral resources") in which such Indian tribe owns a beneficial or restricted interest, or providing for the sale or other disposition of the production or products of such mineral resources.

(b) Any Indian owning a beneficial or restricted interest in mineral resources may include such resources in a tribal Minerals Agreement subject to the concurrence of the parties and a finding by the Secretary that such participation is in the best interest of the Indian.

Minerals Agreement, approval or disapproval.
25 USC 2103.

SEC. 4. (a) The Secretary shall approve or disapprove any Minerals Agreement submitted to him for approval within (1) one hundred and eighty days after submission or (2) sixty days after compliance, if required, with section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)) or any other requirement of Federal law, whichever is later. Any party to such an agreement may enforce the provisions of this subsection pursuant to section 1361 of title 28, United States Code.

Enforcement.

(b) In approving or disapproving a Minerals Agreement, the Secretary shall determine if it is in the best interest of the Indian tribe or of any individual Indian who may be party to such agreement and shall consider, among other things, the potential economic return to the tribe; the potential environmental, social, and cultural effects on the tribe; and provisions for resolving disputes that may arise between the parties to the agreement: Provided, That the Secretary shall not be required to prepare any study regarding environmental, socioeconomic, or cultural effects of the implementation of a Minerals Agreement apart from that which may be required under section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

(c) Not later than thirty days prior to formal approval or disapproval of any Minerals Agreement, the Secretary shall provide written findings forming the basis of his intent to approve or disapprove such agreement to the affected Indian tribe. Notwithstanding any other law, such findings and all projections, studies, data or other information possessed by the Department of the Interior regarding the terms and conditions of the Minerals Agreement, the financial return to the Indian parties thereto, or the extent, nature, value or disposition of the Indian mineral resources, or the production, products or proceeds thereof, shall be held by the Department of the Interior as privileged proprietary information of the affected Indian or Indian tribe.

(d) The authority to disapprove agreements under this section may only be delegated to the Assistant Secretary of the Interior for Indian Affairs. The decision of the Secretary or, where authority is delegated, of the Assistant Secretary of the Interior for Indian Affairs, to disapprove a Minerals Agreement shall be deemed a final agency action. The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction to review the Secretary's disapproval action and shall determine the matter de novo. The burden is on the Secretary to sustain his action.

authority.

(e) Where the Secretary has approved a Minerals Agreement in compliance with the provisions of this Act and any other applicable provision of law, the United States shall not be liable for losses sustained by a tribe or individual Indian under such agreement: Provided, That the Secretary shall continue to have a trust obligation to ensure that the rights of a tribe or individual Indian are protected in the event of a violation of the terms of any Minerals Agreement by any other party to such agreement: Provided further, That nothing in this Act shall absolve the United States from any responsibility to Indians, including those which derive from the trust relationship and from any treaties, Executive orders, or agreement between the United States and any Indian tribe.

Liability

Sec. 5. (a) the Secretary shall review, within ninety days of enactment of this Act, any existing Minerals Agreement, which does not purport to be a lease, entered into by any Indian tribe and approved by the Secretary after January 1, 1975, but prior to enactment of this Act, to determine if such agreement complies with the purposes of this Act. Such review shall be limited to the terms of the agreement and shall not address questions of the parties' compliance therewith. The Secretary shall notify the affected tribe and other parties to the agreement of any modifications necessary to bring an agreement into compliance with the purposes of this Act. The tribe and other parties to such agreement shall within ninety days after notice make such modifications. If such modifications are not made within ninety days, the provisions of this Act may not be used as a defense in any proceeding challenging the validity of the agreement.

Review.
25 USC 2104.

(b) The review required by subsection (a) of this section may be performed prior to the promulgation of regulations required under section 8 of this Act and shall not be considered a Federal action within the meaning of that term in section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Protection Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)).

Limitation.
25 USC 2105.

SEC. 6. Nothing in this Act shall affect, nor shall any Minerals Agreement approved pursuant to this Act be subject to or limited by, the Act of May 11, 1938 (52 Stat. 347; 25 U.S.C. 396a et seq.), as amended, or any other law authorizing the development or disposition of the mineral resources of an Indian or Indian tribe.

25 USC 2106.

SEC. 7. In carrying out the obligations of the United States, the Secretary shall ensure that upon the request of an Indian tribe or individual Indian and to the extent of his available resources, such tribe or individual Indian shall have available advice, assistance, and information during the negotiation of a Minerals Agreement. The Secretary may fulfill this responsibility either directly through the use of Federal officials and resources or indirectly by providing financial assistance to the Indian tribe or individual Indian to secure independent assistance.

Rules and regulations.
25 USC 2107.

SEC. 8. Within one hundred and eighty days of the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall promulgate rules and regulations to facilitate implementation of this Act. The Secretary shall, to the extent practicable, consult with national and regional Indian organizations and tribes with expertise in mineral development both in the initial formulation of rules and regulations and any future revision or amendment of such rules and regulations. Where there is pending before the Secretary for his approval a Minerals Agreement of the type authorized by section 3 of this Act which was submitted prior to the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall evaluate and approve or disapprove such agreement based upon section 4 of this Act, but shall not withhold or delay such approval or disapproval on the grounds that the rules and regulations implementing this Act have not been promulgated.

"SEC. 14. (a)(1) The Secretary of Commerce is directed to take such actions as are necessary and appropriate to determine the effect of the Japanese salmon drift gillnet fishery on marine mammal populations, and to reduce or eliminate the incidental taking of marine mammals, particularly Dall's porpoise, by this fishery. Such actions shall include, but not be limited to—

"(A) the placement of duly authorized observers of the United States onboard Japanese salmon fishing and research vessels while within the Fishery Conservation Zone, for the purpose of making scientific observations and studies relating to the biology of the Dall's porpoise and the incidental taking of marine mammals, seabirds, and king salmon of North American origin;

"(B) the collection of a representative sample of biological material and data on all marine mammals incidentally taken in the fishery; and

"(C) the adoption of requirements, by permit conditions or agreement, governing the incidental taking of marine mammals by Japanese salmon fishing vessels within the Fishery Conservation Zone, which will insure that new fishing gear or techniques, or both, are implemented in the North Pacific salmon fishery which will reduce porpoise mortality to the greatest extent practicable.

“(2) The introduction of new fishing gear or techniques, or both, in the fishery under paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be accomplished no later than is specified in the following timetable:

“(A) 25 per centum of the fleet by the commencement of the 1984 season;

“(C) 75 per centum of the fleet by the commencement of the 1986 season; and “(D) 100 per centum of the fleet in order to be eligible for a new permit for the period after June 9, 1987.

The Secretary shall have the authority to decide, based upon available fishery research, which types of fishing gear or techniques offer the most practical and effective opportunity for reducing porpoise mortality, and to specify which of these fishing gear or techniques, or both, must be implemented during the time periods specified in subparagraphs (A) through (D) of this paragraph. In addition, the National Marine Fisheries Service may require the implementation of new gear types or fishing techniques, or both, on a faster schedule if the Service determines that faster implementation is technically and economically feasible.

General Permit, extension.

“(b) The General Permit issued under the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 (16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq.) to the Federation of Japan Salmon Fisheries Cooperative Association on May 7, 1981 (hereinafter referred to as the ‘General Permit’), is extended through June 9, 1987, unless earlier terminated by the Secretary pursuant to applicable law: Provided, That—

The Secretary shall, by April 30 of each year during this period, prepare and make available a report covering a final action plan and shall publish a notice of availability of the report in the Federal Register.

Federal Register.

“(c) The taking of marine mammals incidental to fishing operations by Japanese salmon fishing vessels within the Fishery Conservation Zone shall be regulated in accordance with the General

Permit, except that the Secretary shall take appropriate steps, including the suspension or modification of the General Permit, if the Secretary determines that the General Permit holder or certificate holders are not adhering to the conditions of the General Permit or to the conditions specified in paragraphs (a)(1)(C) and (a)(2) of this section and publishes such determination and its basis in the Federal Register.

“(3) Before determining whether to offer an offsite lease under subsection (c), the Secretary shall seek the recommendation of the Governor of the State in which the lands to be leased are located as to whether or not to lease such lands, what alternative actions are available, and what special conditions could be added to the proposed lease to mitigate impacts. The Secretary shall accept the recommendations of the Governor if he determines that they provide for a reasonable balance between the national interest and the State’s interests. The Secretary shall communicate to the Governor, in writing, and publish in the Federal Register the reasons for his determination to accept or reject such Governor’s recommendations.”.

An Act

To provide for the payment of losses incurred as a result of the ban on the use of the chemical Tris in apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber, and for other purposes.

Dec. 30, 1982

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That (a) the United States Claims Court shall have jurisdiction to hear, determine, and render judgment upon any claim for losses sustained by any producer, manufacturer, distributor, or retailer of children's sleepwear, or by any producer, converter, manufacturer, distributor, or retailer of fabric, yarn, or fiber contained in or intended for use in children's sleepwear, (1) if those losses resulted from the actions taken by the Federal Government under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act on April 8, 1977, and thereafter relating to apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber containing Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate, and (2) if such children's sleepwear or such fabric, yarn, or fiber, as the case may be, at the time of its manufacture was subject to the requirements of or was subject to use in compliance with the mandatory Federal flammability standard FF3-71 or FF5-74.

Tris chemical ban.
Payment of losses.

15 USC 1261
note.

(b)(1) In determining the validity of any claim under this Act and the amount of the losses sustained for which such a claim is brought, the court shall consider the following factors:

(A) The degree to which reasonable alternatives to Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate existed at the time the Federal Government established the applicable mandatory Federal flammability standard referred to in subsection (a).

(B) Whether it would have been feasible or reasonable for the claimant to have tested Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate for chronic hazards at the time the Federal Government established such flammability standard.

(C) The degree to which the Federal Government or other nationally known researchers tested Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate for toxicity or other health hazards and disseminated the results of those tests.

(D) The degree of good faith demonstrated by the claimant in seeking to comply fully with such Federal flammability standard.

(E) The extent to which a claimant may have relied in good faith upon assurances from suppliers that the products containing Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate were safe.

(F) The degree to which the claimant acted reasonably in using Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate.

(G) The degree to which the claimant, in good faith, complied with actions taken by the Federal Government under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act on April 8, 1977.

(H) The degree to which the claimant, in good faith, complied with those provisions relating to exports contained in section 14 of the Federal Hazardous Substances Act and section 18 of the Consumer Product Safety Act.

15 USC 1273.

15 USC 2067.

(2) The court may not enter judgment in favor of a claimant under this Act, nor may the Attorney General agree to any settlement with a claimant under this Act, unless the claimant produces proof, to the satisfaction of the court or the Attorney General, as the case may be, that the claimant lawfully disposed of the apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber with respect to which the claim was brought.

Determination of losses.

(3) In determining the amount of the losses for which a claim is brought under this Act, the amount of such losses shall not include lost profits, proceeds from distress sales, attorney's fees, or interest on any loss suffered by any producer, converter, manufacturer, distributor, or retailer of children's sleepwear, or by any producer or manufacturer of fabric, yarn, or fiber.

(c)(1) The measure of losses for any producer or manufacturer of children's sleepwear shall be the cost of producing or manufacturing the sleepwear garment, plus the cost of the fabric, yarn, or fiber used for such production or manufacture, or the cost of such sleepwear, fabric, yarn, or fiber held in stock on the date of the enactment of this Act, less the fair market value, if any, of the sleepwear garment or the fabric, yarn, or fiber. If such garment, fabric, yarn, or fiber was resold after April 8, 1977, but prior to such date of enactment, then the measure of losses shall be the cost of producing or manufacturing the sleepwear garment plus the cost of the fabric, yarn, or fiber, less the proceeds from any such sale.

(2) The measure of losses for any producer, converter, or manufacturer of fabric, yarn, or fiber shall be the cost of producing, converting, or manufacturing the fabric, yarn, or fiber, plus the cost of the raw materials used for such production, converting, or manufacturing, or the cost of such fabric, yarn, or fiber held in stock on the date of the enactment of this Act, less the fair market value, if any, of the fabric, yarn, or fiber on such date. If the fabric, yarn, or fiber was resold after April 8, 1977, but prior to such date of enactment, then the measure of losses shall be the cost of producing, converting, or manufacturing the fabric, yarn, or fiber plus the cost of the raw materials used for such production, converting, or manufacturing, less the proceeds from any such sale.

(3) The measure of losses for any distributor or retailer shall be the distributor's or retailer's purchase price for the children's sleepwear, fabric, yarn, or fiber involved, less the fair market value, if any, of such sleepwear, fabric, yarn, or fiber, and less the amount of any reimbursement received for such sleepwear, fabric, yarn, or fiber.

Transportation compensation.

(4) In addition to the losses determined under paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this subsection, a claimant may also be compensated for (A) unreimbursed costs of transportation paid for the return of the sleepwear garments, fabric, yarn, or fiber involved, and (B) unreimbursed costs of the lawful disposal of such garments, fabric, yarn, or fiber.

Class action.

(d) No claim under this Act may be brought as a class action. No claim under this Act may be brought by two or more parties unless damages are claimed to be jointly recoverable or are disputed among the parties.

(e) Upon payment of any claim under this Act, whether or not such payment is the result of a court judgment or a settlement, the United States shall be subrogated to the claimant's rights to recover losses or to assert a claim against any person relating to the subject matter of such claim paid by the United States. The claimant shall take the necessary steps, as determined by the Attorney General, to secure such rights in the United States in order to be entitled to the entry of a judgment by the court or payment under this Act, and the failure of the claimant to take such steps shall constitute cause to deny the entry of such judgment or such payment. The failure of the claimant to take such steps shall not limit or adversely affect the right of the United States to act as subrogee or assignee to the full extent of its payments under this Act. Any purported limitation on the right of the United States to act as assignee or to become subrogated to the rights of a claimant shall be without any effect, to the extent that the United States has made payments under this Act.

(f) Any claim under this Act shall be barred unless commenced within two years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Claim
commencement.

(g) No person shall have any claim under this Act who, on or after June 14, 1978, (1) exported from the United States any apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber containing Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate which was produced, converted, manufactured, or sold for use in the United States, or (2) transferred any apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber described in clause (1) to another person with knowledge that such apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber would be exported from the United States.

(h) Before payment is made on any claim under this Act, the Attorney General shall notify the Administrator of the Small Business Administration of the claim. The Administrator shall, after receipt of such notification, notify the Attorney General as soon as possible of—notification.

(1) any unpaid loans made by the Small Business Administration under the Small Business Act, and

(2) other amounts owing to the Small Business Administration on account of loans made under the Small Business Act, for the purpose of assisting the claimant on account of losses sustained as a result of the actions taken by the United States under the Federal Hazardous Substance Act on April 8, 1977, and thereafter relating to apparel, fabric, yarn, or fiber containing Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate. The Attorney General shall offset, from the amount of the payment on the claim under this Act, the amount of any such unpaid loans or other amounts owing to the Small Business Administration. The amount of any offset under this subsection shall be treated as accrued and paid to the claimant in ten equal annual installments beginning with the first year in which payment on the claim under this Act is made.

note.

(i) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as an admission of fault or liability on behalf of the United States for any personal injury which may hereafter be claimed to arise from exposure to Tris (2,3-dibromopropyl) phosphate.

(8) The term “Settlement Agreement” means those documents entitled “Settlement Agreement between the Miccosukee Tribe and the State of Florida” executed on April 16, 1982, by representatives of the State of Florida and representatives of the Miccosukee Tribe and filed with the secretary of state of the State of Florida which incorporate the Lease Agreement described in paragraph (6) of this section.

Jan. 3, 1983
[S. 2355]

47 USC 610 note.

SEC. 2. The Congress finds that—

- (1) all persons should have available the best telephone service which is technologically and economically feasible;
- (2) currently available technology is capable of providing telephone service to some individuals who, because of hearing impairments, require telephone reception by means of hearing aids with induction coils, or other inductive receptors;
- (3) the lack of technical standards ensuring compatibility between hearing aids and telephones has prevented receipt of the best telephone service which is technologically and economically feasible; and
- (4) adoption of technical standards is required in order to ensure compatibility between telephones and hearing aids, thereby accommodating the needs of individuals with hearing impairments.

SEC. 3. Title VI of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

"TELEPHONE SERVICE FOR THE DISABLED

"(e) In any rulemaking to implement the provisions of this section, the Commission shall specifically consider the costs and benefits to all telephone users, including persons with and without hearing impairments. The Commission shall ensure that regulations adopted to implement this section encourage the use of currently available technology and do not discourage or impair the development of improved technology.

Review.      “(f) The Commission shall complete rulemaking actions required by this section and issue specific and detailed rules and regulations resulting therefrom within one year after the date of enactment of the Telecommunications for the Disabled Act of 1982. Thereafter the Commission shall periodically review such rules and regulations. Except for coin-operated telephones and telephones provided for emergency use, the Commission may not require the retrofitting of equipment to achieve the purposes of this section.

“ (g) Any common carrier or connecting carrier may provide specialized terminal equipment needed by persons whose hearing, speech, vision, or mobility is impaired. The State commission may allow the carrier to recover in its tariffs for regulated service reasonable and prudent costs not charged directly to users of such equipment.

47 USC 396 note.
95 Stat. 725.      Sec. 4. Subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of section 1225(a) of the Public Broadcasting Amendments Act of 1981 is amended to read as follows:

47 USC 396.      “(B) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (c) of section 396 of the Communications Act of 1934, in the case of the offices of director the terms of which expired March 1982, persons appointed to fill two of such vacancies existing as of December 13, 1982, shall be appointed for terms which shall expire on March 1, 1984 and shall not be representative of the political party having a majority of the directors of the Board on December 13, 1982. Persons appointed for a term beginning March 1, 1984, to fill the vacancies occurring in such offices the terms of which, by reason of the preceding sentence, expire on March 1, 1984, shall not be filled by persons representing the political party having a majority of the directors of the Board on March 1, 1984. Persons appointed on or after March 1, 1984, to fill vacancies in the two such offices shall be appointed for terms of five years. On March 1, 1984, there are abolished those five offices of director the terms of which, without application of the preceding provisions of this paragraph, expire on such date. In administering the provisions of this paragraph a director is a minority member of the Board if he is not a member of the political party to which the majority of the directors of the Board are members.”.

Joint Resolution

Jan. 3, 1983
[S.J. Res. 270]

To designate 1983 as the "Bicentennial of Air and Space Flight".

Whereas the first manned flight in history was made by Etienne de Montgolfier at LaMulette, France, on November 21, 1783, releasing man from his terrestrial shackles;

Whereas a few months later in Baltimore, Maryland, a thirteen-year-old boy named Edward Warren soared aloft in a balloon launched by Peter Carnes, Esquire, who a few days previously launched America's first hot air balloon, the Splendid Chariot, from the grounds of the Indian Queen Tavern in Bladensburg, Maryland;

Whereas the United States and its first ally, France, together with many other countries will celebrate the extraordinary achievements in air and space flight of the past two centuries;

Whereas the United States Organizing Committee has been established to plan, coordinate, and assist in the implementation of national, State, and local festivities during 1983;

Whereas the bicentennial provides an opportunity for increasing public awareness in international trade, of education in science, mathematics, and engineering, and of reigniting the creativity and competitiveness that has historically fueled America and its economy: Now, therefore, be it

Bicentennial of
Air and Space Flight.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the year commencing January 1, 1983, is hereby designated the "Bicentennial of Air and Space Flight", and the President is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to observe the year with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

Approved January 3, 1983.

An Act

To amend the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to facilitate the development of drugs for rare diseases and conditions, and for other purposes.

Jan. 4, 1983

[H.R. 5238]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

Orphan Drug Act.

SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS

SECTION 1. (a) This Act may be cited as the "Orphan Drug Act".
(b) The Congress finds that—

21 USC 301 note.
21 USC 360aa note.

(1) there are many diseases and conditions, such as Huntington's disease, myoclonus, ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease), Tourette syndrome, and muscular dystrophy which affect such small numbers of individuals residing in the United States that the diseases and conditions are considered rare in the United States;

(2) adequate drugs for many of such diseases and conditions have not been developed;

(3) drugs for these diseases and conditions are commonly referred to as "orphan drugs";

(4) because so few individuals are affected by any one rare disease or condition, a pharmaceutical company which develops an orphan drug may reasonably expect the drug to generate relatively small sales in comparison to the cost of developing the drug and consequently to incur a financial loss;

(5) there is reason to believe that some promising orphan drugs will not be developed unless changes are made in the applicable Federal laws to reduce the costs of developing such drugs and to provide financial incentives to develop such drugs; and

(6) it is in the public interest to provide such changes and incentives for the development of orphan drugs.

AMENDMENTS TO THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT

SEC. 2. (a) Chapter V of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act is amended by adding at the end the following:

"SUBCHAPTER B—DRUGS FOR RARE DISEASES OR CONDITIONS

"RECOMMENDATIONS FOR INVESTIGATIONS OF DRUGS FOR RARE DISEASES OR CONDITIONS

"SEC. 525. (a) The sponsor of a drug for a disease or condition which is rare in the States may request the Secretary to provide written recommendations for the non-clinical and clinical investigations which must be conducted with the drug before—21 USC 360aa.

"(1) it may be approved for such disease or condition under section 505, or

21 USC 355.

42 USC 262. “(2) if the drug is a biological product, before it may be licensed for such disease or condition under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act.

If the Secretary has reason to believe that a drug for which a request is made under this section is a drug for a disease or condition which is rare in the States, the Secretary shall provide the person making the request written recommendations for the non-clinical and clinical investigations which the Secretary believes, on the basis of information available to the Secretary at the time of the request under this section, would be necessary for approval of such drug for such disease or condition under section 505 or licensing under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act for such disease or condition.

21 USC 355.

“(b) The Secretary shall by regulation promulgate procedures for the implementation of subsection (a).

“DESIGNATION OF DRUGS FOR RARE DISEASES OR CONDITIONS

21 USC 360bb.

“SEC. 526. (a)(1) The manufacturer or the sponsor of a drug may request the Secretary to designate the drug as a drug for a rare disease or condition. If the Secretary finds that a drug for which a request is submitted under this subsection is being or will be investigated for a rare disease or condition and—

“(A) if an application for such drug is approved under section 505, or “(B) if the drug is a biological product, a license is issued under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, the approval or license would be for use for such disease or condition, the Secretary shall designate the drug as a drug for such disease or condition. A request for a designation of a drug under this subsection shall contain the consent of the applicant to notice being given by the Secretary under subsection (b) respecting the designation of the drug.

“Rare disease or condition.”

“(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term ‘rare disease or condition’ means any disease or condition which occurs so infrequently in the United States that there is no reasonable expectation that the cost of developing and making available in the United States a drug for such disease or condition will be recovered from sales in the United States of such drug. Determinations under the preceding sentence with respect to any drug shall be made on the basis of the facts and circumstances as of the date the request for designation of the drug under this subsection is made.

Notice.

“(b) Notice respecting the designation of a drug under subsection (a) shall be made available to the public.

“(c) The Secretary shall by regulation promulgate procedures for the implementation of subsection (a).

“PROTECTION FOR UNPATENTED DRUGS FOR RARE DISEASES OR CONDITIONS

21 USC 360cc.

“SEC. 527. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), if the Secretary—

“(1) approves an application filed pursuant to section 505(b), or

“(2) issues a license under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act for a drug designated under section 526 for a rare disease or condition and for which a United States Letter of Patent may not be issued, the Secretary may not approve another application under section 505(b) or issue another license under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act for such drug for such disease or condition for a person who is not the holder of such approved application or of such license until the expiration of seven years from the date of the approval of the approved application or the issuance of the license. Section 505(c)(2) does not apply to the refusal to approve an application under the preceding sentence.

Ante, p. 2050.

21 USC 355.

42 USC 262.

“(b) If an application filed pursuant to section 505(b) is approved for a drug designated under section 526 for a rare disease or condition or a license is issued under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act for such a drug and if a United States Letter of Patent may not be issued for the drug, the Secretary may, during the seven-year period beginning on the date of the application approval or of the issuance of the license, approve another application under section 505(b), or, if the drug is a biological product, issue a license under section 351 of the Public Health Service Act, for such drug for such disease or condition for a person who is not the holder of such approved application or of such license if—

“(1) The Secretary finds, after providing the holder notice and opportunity for the submission of views, that in such period the holder of the approved application or of the license cannot assure the availability of sufficient quantities of the drug to meet the needs of persons with the disease or condition for which the drug was designated; or

“(2) such holder provides the Secretary in writing the consent of such holder for the approval of other applications or the issuance of other licenses before the expiration of such seven-year period.

“OPEN PROTOCOLS FOR INVESTIGATIONS OF DRUGS FOR RARE DISEASES OR CONDITIONS

“SEC. 528. If a drug is designated under section 526 as a drug for a rare disease or condition and if notice of a claimed exemption under section 505(i) or regulations issued thereunder is filed for such drug, the Secretary shall encourage the sponsor of such drug to design protocols for clinical investigations of the drug which may be conducted under the exemption to permit the addition to the investigations of persons with the disease or condition who need the drug to treat the disease or condition and who cannot be satisfactorily treated by available alternative drugs.”

21 USC 360dd

(b) Chapter V of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act is amended by inserting before section 501 the following:

“SUBCHAPTER A—DRUGS AND DEVICES.”

ORPHAN PRODUCTS BOARD

SEC. 3. Title II of the Public Health Service Act is amended by adding at the end the following:

SEC. 11. Section 192 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2242) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 192. TEMPORARY OPERATING LICENSE.—

"a. In any proceeding upon an application for an operating license for a utilization facility required to be licensed under section 103 or 104 b. of this Act, in which a hearing is otherwise required pursuant to section 189 a., the applicant may petition the Commission for a temporary operating license for such facility authorizing fuel loading, testing, and operation at a specific power level to be determined by the Commission, pending final action by the Commission on the application. The initial petition for a temporary operating license for each such facility, and any temporary operating license issued for such facility based upon the initial petition, shall be limited to power levels not to exceed 5 percent of rated full thermal power. Following issuance by the Commission of the temporary operating license for each such facility, the licensee may file petitions with the Commission to amend the license to allow facility operation in staged increases at specific power levels, to be determined by the Commission, exceeding 5 percent of rated full thermal power. The initial petition for a temporary operating license for each such facility may be filed at any time after the filing of: (1) the report of the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards required by section 182 b.; (2) the filing of the initial Safety Evaluation Report by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff's first supplement to the report prepared in response to the report of the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards for the facility; (3) the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff's final detailed statement on the environmental impact of the facility prepared pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)); and (4) a State, local, or utility emergency preparedness plan for the facility. license, shall be accompanied by an affidavit or affidavits setting forth the specific facts upon which the petitioner relies to justify issuance of the temporary operating license or the amendment thereto. The Commission shall publish notice of each such petition in the Federal Register and in such trade or news publications as the Commission deems appropriate to give reasonable notice to persons who might have a potential interest in the grant of such temporary operating license or amendment thereto. Any person may file affidavits or statements in support of, or in opposition to, the petition within thirty days after the publication of such notice in the Federal Register.

"b. With respect to any petition filed pursuant to subsection a. of this section, the Commission may issue a temporary operating license, or amend the license to authorize temporary operation at each specific power level greater than that authorized in the initial temporary operating license, as determined by the Commission, upon finding that—

"(1) in all respects other than the conduct or completion of any required hearing, the requirements of law are met;

"(2) in accordance with such requirements, there is reasonable assurance that operation of the facility during the period of the temporary operating license in accordance with its terms and conditions will provide adequate protection to the public health and safety and the environment during the period of temporary operation; and

"(3) denial of such temporary operating license will result in delay between the date on which construction of the facility is sufficiently completed, in the judgment of the Commission, to permit issuance of the temporary operating license, and the date when such facility would otherwise receive a final operating license pursuant to this Act.

Final order,
committees.

The temporary operating license shall become effective upon issuance and shall contain such terms and conditions as the Commission may deem necessary, including the duration of the license and any provision for the extension thereof. Any final order authorizing the issuance or amendment of any temporary operating license pursuant to this section shall recite with specificity the facts and reasons justifying the findings under this subsection, and shall be transmitted upon such issuance to the Committees on Interior and Insular Affairs and Energy and Commerce of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate. The final order of the Commission with respect to the issuance or amendment of a temporary operating license shall be subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 158 of title 28, United States Code. The requirements of section 189 a. of this Act with respect to the issuance or amendment of facility licenses shall not apply to the issuance or amendment of a temporary operating license under this section.

Hearing.

"c. Any hearing on the application for the final operating license for a facility required pursuant to section 189 a. shall be concluded as promptly as practicable. The Commission shall suspend the temporary operating license if it finds that the applicant is not prosecuting the application for the final operating license with due diligence. Issuance of a temporary operating license under subsection b. of this section shall be without prejudice to the right of any party to raise any issue in a hearing required pursuant to section 189 a.; and failure to assert any ground for denial or limitation of a temporary operating license shall not bar the assertion of such ground in connection with the issuance of a subsequent final operating license. Any party to a hearing required pursuant to section 189 a. on the final operating license for a facility for which a temporary operating license has been issued under subsection b., and any member of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board conducting such hearing, shall promptly notify the Commission of any information indicating that the terms and conditions of the temporary operating license are not being met, or that such terms and conditions are not sufficient to comply with the provisions of paragraph (2) of subsection b.

"d. The Commission is authorized and directed to adopt such administrative remedies as the Commission deems appropriate to minimize the need for issuance of temporary operating licenses pursuant to this section.

(1) by inserting "(1)" after the subsection designation; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(2)(A) The Commission may issue and make immediately effective any amendment to an operating license, upon a determination by the Commission that such amendment involves no significant hazards consideration, notwithstanding the pendency before the Commission of a request for a hearing from any person. Such amendment may be issued and made immediately effective in advance of the holding and completion of any required hearing. In determining under this section whether such amendment involves no significant hazards consideration, the Commission shall consult with the State in which the facility involved is located. In all other respects such amendment shall meet the requirements of this Act.

"(B) The Commission shall periodically (but not less frequently than once every thirty days) publish notice of any amendments issued, or proposed to be issued, as provided in subparagraph (A). Each such notice shall include all amendments issued, or proposed to be issued, since the date of publication of the last such periodic notice. Such notice shall, with respect to each amendment or proposed amendment (i) identify the facility involved; and (ii) provide a brief description of such amendment. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to delay the effective date of any amendment.

Notice of publication.

"(C) The Commission shall, during the ninety-day period following the effective date of this paragraph, promulgate regulations establishing (i) standards for determining whether any amendment to an operating license involves no significant hazards consideration; (ii) criteria for providing or, in emergency situations, dispensing with prior notice and reasonable opportunity for public comment on any such determination, which criteria shall take into account the exigency of the need for the amendment involved; and (iii) procedures for consultation on any such determination with the State in which the facility involved is located."

At each such site at which construction is not more than 15 percent complete, the Commission shall provide that such inspection personnel as the Commission deems appropriate shall be physically present at the site at such times following issuance of the construction permit as may be necessary in the judgment of the Commission.

Commercial nuclear powerplant construction, study.

(b) The Commission shall conduct a study of existing and alternative programs for improving quality assurance and quality control in the construction of commercial nuclear powerplants. In conducting the study, the Commission shall obtain the comments of the public, licensees of nuclear powerplants, the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards, and organizations comprised of professionals having expertise in appropriate fields. The study shall include an analysis of the following:

(1) providing a basis for quality assurance and quality control, inspection, and enforcement actions through the adoption of an approach which is more prescriptive than that currently in practice for defining principal architectural and engineering criteria for the construction of commercial nuclear powerplants;

(2) conditioning the issuance of construction permits for commercial nuclear powerplants on a demonstration by the licensee that the licensee is capable of independently managing the effective performance of all quality assurance and quality control responsibilities for the powerplant;

(3) evaluations, inspections, or audits of commercial nuclear powerplant construction by organizations comprised of professionals having expertise in appropriate fields which evaluations, inspections, or audits are more effective than those under current practice;

(4) improvement of the Commission's organization, methods, and programs for quality assurance development, review, and inspection; and

(5) conditioning the issuance of construction permits for commercial nuclear powerplants on the permittee entering into contracts or other arrangements with an independent inspector to audit the quality assurance program to verify quality assurance performance.

inspector."

For purposes of paragraph (5), the term "independent inspector" means a person or other entity having no responsibility for the design or construction of the plant involved. The study shall also include an analysis of quality assurance and quality control programs at representative sites at which such programs are operating satisfactorily and an assessment of the reasons therefor.

(c) For purposes of—

(1) determining the best means of assuring that commercial nuclear powerplants are constructed in accordance with the applicable safety requirements in effect pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954; and

42 USC 2011
note

(2) assessing the feasibility and benefits of the various means listed in subsection (b);

the Commission shall undertake a pilot program to review and evaluate programs that include one or more of the alternative concepts identified in subsection (b) for the purposes of assessing the feasibility and benefits of their implementation. The pilot program shall include programs that use independent inspectors for auditing quality assurance responsibilities of the licensee for the construction of commercial nuclear powerplants, as described in paragraph (5) of subsection (b). The pilot program shall include at least three sites at which commercial nuclear powerplants are under construction. The Commission shall select at least one site at which quality assurance and quality control programs have operated satisfactorily, and at least two sites with remedial programs underway at which major construction, quality assurance, or quality control deficiencies (or any combination thereof) have been identified in the past. The Commission may require any changes in existing quality assurance and quality control organizations and relationships that may be necessary at the selected sites to implement the pilot program.

Pilot program.

(d) Not later than fifteen months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Commission shall complete the study required under subsection (b) and submit to the United States Senate and House of Representatives a report setting forth the results of the study. The report shall include a brief summary of the information received from the public and from other persons referred to in subsection (b) and a statement of the Commission's response to the significant comments received. The report shall also set forth an analysis of the results of the pilot program required under subsection (c). The report shall be accompanied by the recommendations of the Commission, including any legislative recommendations, and a description of any administrative actions that the Commission has undertaken or intends to undertake, for improving quality assurance and quality control programs that are applicable during the construction of nuclear powerplants.

Study results,
submittal to Congress.

Joint Resolution

To authorize and request the President to designate the month of December 1982 as “National Closed-Captioned Television Month”.

Jan. 4, 1983
[S.J. Res. 258]

Whereas the Congress has officially proclaimed 1982 as the National Year of Disabled Persons;

Whereas hearing-handicapped Americans of all ages traditionally have suffered isolation from society and too often have unwillingly ended up as burdens to society rather than participating citizens;

Whereas the recent telecommunications breakthrough of “closed captioning” now enables these people to read on the television screen what they cannot hear and thus share—for the first time in history—that wealth of information, entertainment, and language so abundantly absorbed by the general public;

Whereas the innovative service, provided through the nonprofit and tax-exempt National Captioning Institute (NCI), represents the culmination of almost ten years of technological research and development, market exploration, and cooperation between government, industry, and community;

Whereas the nationwide service which began in March 1980 on ABC, NBC, and PBS is already proving to open up new educational horizons and new avenues toward equal opportunity for this severely disadvantaged population, particularly its children and youth;

Whereas hearing-impaired citizens have personally invested over $17,000,000 to date for purchase of decoding devices;

Whereas many Members of the Congress have long been actively supporting development, implementation, and expansion of the closed-captioned television service which is the first of its kind anywhere in the world; and

Whereas President Reagan, referring to the closed captioning of his inaugural ceremonies and televised addresses to the Nation, has stated: “I feel very honored to be the first President in history to have spoken directly to people who had never before experienced this historic tradition”: Now, therefore, be it

State bears to the total population in urban areas in all the States as shown by the latest Federal census.

(b) The Secretary of Transportation shall, for each of the fiscal years 1983, 1984, 1985, and 1986, determine the total of the amounts determined for each State under subsection (a) and shall determine the ratio which the total amount authorized for such fiscal year for the Federal-aid primary system bears to the total of such amounts determined under subsection (a) for such fiscal year.

Sums may only be made available under this paragraph in any State if the Secretary determines that the State has obligated all of its apportionments other than an amount which, by itself, is insufficient to pay the Federal share of the cost of a project on the Interstate System which has been submitted by such State to the Secretary for approval, and the applicant is willing and able to (A) apply the funds to a ready-to-commence project; and (B) in the case of construction work, begin work within ninety days of obligation. Sums made available under this paragraph shall remain available until expended.

"(4) Sums apportioned to a Federal-aid system for any fiscal year shall be deemed to be expended if a sum equal to the total of the sums apportioned to the State for such fiscal year and previous fiscal years is obligated. Any Federal-aid highway funds released by the payment of the final voucher or by the modification of the formal project agreement shall be credited to the same class of funds, primary, secondary, urban, or interstate, previously apportioned to the State and be immediately available for expenditure."

Such amount shall be available only for obligation by the Secretary in accordance with subsection (b)(2) of this section.

REPORT REGARDING LONGER COMBINATION COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

Submittal to Congress.
49 USC 2315
note.

SEC. 138. (a) Within one year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation, after consultation with the transportation officials and Governors of the several States and after an opportunity for public comment, shall submit to Congress a detailed report on the potential benefits and costs, if any, to shippers, receivers, operators of commercial motor vehicles, and the general public, that reasonably may be anticipated from the establishment of a national intercity truck route network for the operation of a special class of longer combination commercial motor vehicles.

Definitions.

(b) For the purposes of this section—

(1) the term “longer combination commercial motor vehicles” means multiple-trailer combinations consisting of (A) truck tractor-semitrailer-full trailer, and (B) truck tractor-semitrailer-full trailer-full trailer combinations with an overall length not in excess of one hundred and ten feet; and

(2) the term “national intercity truck route network” means a network consisting of a number of controlled-access, interconnecting segments of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and other highways of comparable design and traffic capacity including, but not limited to, all such highways where the operation of longer combination commercial motor vehicles is authorized on the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) The detailed report mandated by this section shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(1) a specific plan for the establishment of a national intercity truck route network, including the designation of those specific highway segments which would be required to connect the major distribution centers and markets for long-haul intercity freight service; except that the Secretary of Transportation shall not include in the plan any highway segment which, because of design limitations or other factors, cannot accommodate the safe operation of longer combination commercial motor vehicles;

(2) an analysis of the intercity motor freight volume that reasonably can be anticipated to be transported by longer combination commercial motor vehicles over the national intercity truck route network if such network is established by Congress;

(3) an analysis of the fuel savings that reasonably can be anticipated in the transportation of freight by commercial motor vehicle if such network is established by Congress;

(4) an analysis of the productivity gains that reasonably can be anticipated to be achieved in the transportation of freight by commercial motor vehicle if such network is established by Congress;

(5) an analysis of the fuel conservation and productivity gains historically achieved by operators of longer combination commercial motor vehicles;

(6) an analysis of the safety record of longer combination commercial motor vehicle operations that have been conducted prior to the date of enactment of this Act; and

(7) an analysis of the effect of the size and weight limitations as in effect after the date of enactment of this Act.

(d) In making the findings and determinations required by subsection (c) of this section, and in making the detailed report to Congress required by this section, the Secretary of Transportation shall assume that the longer combination commercial motor vehicles operating on the national intercity truck route network, if and when established by Congress, would be subject to the single- and tandem-axle weight limits imposed by section 127 of title 23, United States Code. The Secretary of Transportation shall further assume that the overall gross weight of such vehicles on a group of two or more consecutive axles shall be limited by the formula set forth in such section, and only by such formula.

Single- and tandem-axle weight limits.

(e) In making the detailed report to Congress required by this section, the Secretary of Transportation shall assume that longer combination commercial motor vehicles operating on the national intercity truck route network will have reasonable access to terminals, combination breakup areas, and food and fuel facilities consistent with safe operations of such vehicles.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be construed to establish Federal policy with regard to highway vehicle weight and size standards, nor shall anything in this section be construed to preempt or to affect any State law establishing highway vehicle weight or size standards. The provisions of this section require an investigation and study on the feasibility and propriety of making changes in vehicle weight and size standards which the Congress may choose to consider in the future.

Vehicle weight and size standards.

Investigation and study.

CHANGE IN LOCATION OF INTERSTATE SEGMENTS

SEC. 139. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 4(b) of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1981, the Secretary of Transportation may approve a change in location of any Interstate route or segment and approve, in lieu thereof, the construction of such Interstate route or segment on a new location if the original location of such route or segment meets the following criteria: (1) it has been designated under section 103(e) of title 23, United States Code; (2) it is 95 Stat. 1700.

23 USC 101 note. serving Interstate travel as of the date of enactment of this section; (3) it requires improvements which are eligible under the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1981, and which would either involve major modifications in order to meet acceptable standards or result in severe environmental impacts and such major modifications or mitigation measures relating to the environmental impacts are not cost effective. The cost of the construction of such Interstate route or segment on new location with funds available under section 108(b) of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956, as amended, shall not exceed the estimated cost of the eligible improvements on the original location as eligible under the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1981 and included in the 1983 interstate cost estimate as approved by the Congress. Such cost shall be increased or decreased, as determined by the Secretary, based on changes in construction costs of the original location of the route or segment as of the date of approval of each project on the new location. Upon approval of a new location, and funds apportioned under section 104(b)(5)(A) of title 23, United States Code, which were expended on the route or segment in the original location shall be refunded to the Highway Trust Fund and credited to the unobligated balance of the State's apportionment made under section 104(b)(5)(A) of title 23, United States Code, and other eligible Federal-aid highway funds may be substituted in lieu thereof at the appropriate Federal share.

23 USC 103 note. (b) Where the Secretary of Transportation approves a relocation of an Interstate route or segment under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, such route or segment shall not be eligible for withdrawal under the provisions of section 103(e)(4) of title 23, United States Code, and shall be subject to the Interstate System completion deadlines provided in subsections (d) and (e) of section 107 of the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1978 or subject to Interstate System completion deadlines as may be determined by Congress.

(b) The Secretary of Transportation is hereby authorized for each of the fiscal years through September 30, 1985, to increase the Federal share as provided in sections 119, 120, and 144 of title 23, United States Code, by 5 per centum of any project submitted by the State highway departments which contains in the plans, specifications, and estimates submitted pursuant to section 106, of title 23, United States Code, the use of the materials described in subsection (a). To be eligible for such supplemental Federal assistance, significant amounts of asphalt additives or recycled materials must be used in each project approved by the Secretary.

(c) The Secretary shall establish a procedure within ninety days of the date of enactment of this Act for increasing the Federal share under this section.

5 USC 701 et seq.

(c) The Secretary shall, on the basis of reports submitted by the State agency, and on the Secretary's own inspections, make a continuing evaluation of the manner in which each State with a plan approved under this section is carrying out such plan. Whenever the Secretary finds, after affording due notice and opportunity for comment, that a State plan previously approved is not being followed or that it has become inadequate to assure the enforcement of Federal rules, regulations, standards, or orders applicable to commercial motor vehicle safety or compatible State rules, regulations, standards, or orders, he shall notify the State of withdrawal of approval of such plan. Upon receipt of such notice such plan shall cease to be in effect. Any State aggrieved by a determination of the Secretary pursuant to this subsection may seek judicial review pursuant to chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code. (d) The Secretary shall not approve any plan under this section which does not provide that the aggregate expenditure of funds of the State and political subdivisions thereof, exclusive of Federal funds, for commercial motor vehicle safety programs will be maintained at a level which does not fall below the average level of such expenditure for its last two full fiscal years preceding the date of enactment of this section.

PROTECTION OF EMPLOYEES

SEC. 405. (a) No person shall discharge, discipline, or in any manner discriminate against any employee with respect to the employee's compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment because such employee (or any person acting pursuant to a request of the employee) has filed any complaint or instituted or caused to be instituted any proceeding relating to a violation of a commercial motor vehicle safety rule, regulation, standard, or order, or has testified or is about to testify in any such proceeding.

Discrimination.
49 USC 2305.

(b) No person shall discharge, discipline, or in any manner discriminate against an employee with respect to the employee's compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment for refusing to operate a vehicle when such operation constitutes a violation of any Federal rules, regulations, standards, or orders applicable to commercial motor vehicle safety or health, or because of the employee's reasonable apprehension of serious injury to himself or the public due to the unsafe condition of such equipment. The unsafe conditions causing the employee's apprehension of injury must be of such nature that a reasonable person, under the circumstances then confronting the employee, would conclude that there is a bona fide danger of an accident, injury, or serious impairment of health, resulting from the unsafe condition. In order to qualify for protection under this subsection, the employee must have sought from his employer, and have been unable to obtain, correction of the unsafe condition.

conditions.

(c)(1) Any employee who believes he has been discharged, disciplined, or otherwise discriminated against by any person in violation of subsection (a) or (b) of this section may, within one hundred and eighty days after such alleged violation occurs, file (or have filed by any person on the employee's behalf) a complaint with the Secretary of Labor alleging such discharge, discipline, or discrimination. Upon receipt of such a complaint, the Secretary of Labor shall notify the person named in the complaint of the filing of the complaint.

complaint.

(2)(A) Within sixty days of receipt of a complaint filed under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary of Labor shall conduct an investigation and determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that the complaint has merit and notify the complainant and the person alleged to have committed a violation of this section of his findings. Where the Secretary of Labor has concluded that there is reasonable cause to believe that a violation has occurred, he shall accompany his findings with a preliminary order providing the relief prescribed by subparagraph (B) of this paragraph. Thereafter, either the person alleged to have committed the violation or the complainant may, within thirty days, file objections to the findings or preliminary order, or both, and request a hearing on the record, except that the filing of such objections shall not operate to stay any reinstatement remedy contained in the preliminary order. Such hearings shall be expeditiously conducted. Where a hearing is not timely requested, the preliminary order

Upon the conclusion of such hearing, the Secretary of Labor shall issue a final order within one hundred and twenty days. In the interim, such proceedings may be terminated at any time on the basis of a settlement agreement entered into by the Secretary of Labor, the complainant, and the person alleged to have committed the violation.

Complainant, reinstatement to former position. (B) If, in response to a complaint filed under paragraph (1) of this subsection, the Secretary of Labor determines that a violation of subsection (a) or (b) of this section has occurred, the Secretary of Labor shall order (i) the person who committed such violation to take affirmative action to abate the violation, (ii) such person to reinstate the complainant to the complainant's former position together with the compensation (including back pay), terms, conditions, and privileges of the complainant's employment, and (iii) compensatory damages. If such an order is issued, the Secretary of Labor, at the request of the complainant may assess against the person against whom the order is issued a sum equal to the aggregate amount of all costs and expenses (including attorney's fees) reasonably incurred, as determined by the Secretary of Labor, by the complainant for, or in connection with, the bringing of the complaint upon which the order was issued.

Review. (d)(1) Any person adversely affected or aggrieved by an order issued after a hearing under subsection (c) of this section may obtain review of the order in the United States Court of Appeals for the circuit in which the violation, with respect to which the order was issued, allegedly occurred, or the circuit in which such person resided on the date of such violation. The petition for review must be filed within sixty days from the issuance of the Secretary of Labor's order. Such review shall be in accordance with the provisions of chapter 7 of title 5, United States Code, and shall be heard and decided expeditiously.

5 USC 701 et seq.

(2) An order of the Secretary of Labor, with respect to which review could have been obtained under this section, shall not be subject to judicial review in any criminal or other civil proceeding.

Civil action. (e) Whenever a person has failed to comply with an order issued under subsection (c)(2) of this section, the Secretary of Labor shall file a civil action in the United States district court for the district in which the violation was found to occur in order to enforce such order. In actions brought under this subsection, the district courts shall have jurisdiction to grant all appropriate relief, including injunctive relief, reinstatement, and compensatory damages. Civil actions brought under this subsection shall be heard and decided expeditiously.
